SMITH HOUSE BARTENDER IS PUT ON TRIAL

Robert C. Landis Admits and Denies Sale of Liquor Illegally

ANOTHER ENTERS PLEA

Two more Connellsville liquor cases were called in court in Uniontown today.

In the first, in which Bertie Melin was the defendant, a plea of guilty was entered.

In the second Robert C. Landis, bartender at the Smith House, elected to stand trial. This case was given to the jury at noon.

Landis was found not guilty. The jury placed one-fourth the costs on him. The remainder was placed on the prosecutor.

William McClelland, an investigator for the Committee of One Hundred, testified to buying whiskey from Landis June 21 and July 7, last. Landis admitted having given McClelland and another investigator named Grant the whiskey, a pint, but said a "red-headed man" which neither side could identify by name had brought it for them, after they had been "hanging around" for several days, begging for liquor.

In the case of Abe Sieg of Brownsville, charged with the sale of liquor, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, placing two-thirds of the costs on Sieg and the remainder on P. M. Murphy, former county detective.

Jacob Moos, colored, of Uniontown was acquitted on charges of the theft of property of Dr. G. B. Roberts of Vanderbilt and merchandise from the store of Hatfield & Book, Uniontown.

Panosio was sentenced by the local courts in 1919 to serve a six-year period in the penitentiary upon charges of breaking and entering and robbing.

High School
Hall Too Small
For Purpose

Seventh grade students, members of the Junior high school, attend chapel exercises only every other day this year. Because of the increased number of students in the institution there is not a sufficient seating capacity in the auditorium for everyone and the first year students are directed to sit in the bleachers.

When the chapel goes to the chapel exercises, the morning services for the other half are conducted by the assembly teacher. At all the students enter the auditorium at one time it is necessary for many to stand. The seating capacity is a little over 600 and there are 1,100 or more in the institution.

Body of Missing School Girl Found With 25 Stab Wounds; Maniac is Blamed

By Associated Press.
MADISON, N. J., Oct. 7.—Pierced by 25 knife wounds, apparently the work of a maniac, the body of Janet Lawrence, 12-year-old school girl, was found early today concealed behind a log in Klamm woods, near here. Her throat had been slashed and her heart stabbed.

The child was reported missing yesterday afternoon when she failed to return from the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Stand, where she had been caring for the Stand children. At that time the girl's younger brother was sent to find out what was detaining her. Searching parties were organized when he reported his sister had started home several hours before. Search for the person has been taken up under the personal direction of John M. Mills, public prosecutor of Morris county. Several cities are being investigated.

W. J. Ryan, of the Madison police declared that the murder had been preceded by a criminal assault. A handkerchief was found knotted tightly around the girl's neck.

FIREMEN AGREE TO TAKE CHARGE OF HALLOWE'EN

Assurance of Support by Business Men Prompts Hose Company's Action.

At a special meeting in the hose rooms on the West Side last night the volunteer firemen determined to take hold of the Halloween celebration in Connellsville and selected Friday evening, October 28, as the date.

A committee to solicit funds started work this morning and it was said that the list of prizes offered would depend entirely on the amount of money secured. Other committees will be named as the needs for them become apparent.

The firemen had made it known that they did not care to handle the celebration this year, mainly because of the difficulty in raising funds. When it became evident no other organization would sponsor the movement the firemen received a number of requests to go ahead and were assured support.

C. F. Parker, manager of the Brownell Shoe company, offered his assistance and he has been named on a committee to aid in raising funds. Others on the committee are H. O. Rogers, J. A. Shumaker and Thomas Dwyer. Another meeting of the firemen will be held when the committee is ready to report.

A check for $15, a donation from Mrs. K. M. Snyder toward the celebration, was mailed today to Fire Chief W. E. DeBolt.

Police Ordered To Put End to Hallowe'en Pranks

Complaints are already being made to the police about Halloween pranks committed by boys in all parts of the city. Last night a window was broken in a Maple Avenue home and a woman on the South Side also protested against the actions of the youth.

Boys have been getting mischievously for the past week, according to reports, and the police have been ordered to put a stop to their pranks. Until after Halloween an officer will be stationed in various sections of the city to make arrests.

Gangs have been operating on the South Side and are very annoying to people living there. As Halloween is still several weeks off and it is likely the pranks will continue until then unless steps are taken by the police, the acting mayor issued orders to Chief McDonald today to make arrests.

CAMPAIN FOR MEMORIAL HALL IS LAUNCHED

Will F. Stewart Post, Grand Army, Uniontown, Takes the Lead.

VOTE ON IT NOVEMBER 8

An intensive campaign to make a reality the movement for a soldiers' memorial hall has been launched by veterans throughout Fayette county the lead being taken by Will F. Stewart Post No. 180, G. A. R., Uniontown. A committee has been appointed to conduct the campaign during which the proposition will be put before the voters of the county. The memorial hall plan has been approved by four Fayette county grand juries. A recent state law makes possible the erection of the building upon approval of the voters of the county in providing the necessary funds. The committee of Will F. Stewart post points out that in order to provide such a building, the need of which cannot be disputed, will be not more than a fourth of a mill.

The following statement was issued yesterday by the Will F. Stewart Post committee:

To the patriotic citizens of Fayette county and the soldiers of all the wars by which this country has been engaged, those who went out from Fayette county, the Civil War, Spanish-American War, Foreign Wars, the World War, all previous wars and wars to come:

All are interested in having a memorial building erected in this county to commemorate the service of the men, living and dead, who participated in these wars. Every Civil War veteran, Grand Army man, Spanish War veteran, American Legion or World War man is or should be interested to vote and work for the erection of such a building to be voted on and decided by the voters of this county at the next election, to be held Tuesday, November 8, 1921.

Every mother, daughter, wife, sister and sweetheart is interested in this project and should see to it that some of the promises made to the boys who fought under the Stars and Stripes to uphold the supremacy of this country, and make it the greatest power on earth. These promises should be remembered and the creation of this memorial. Every man and woman should vote for it. The cost of this memorial is not to exceed $250,000; to have an auditorium capable of seating at least 1,500 to 2,000 people; a fireproof room for use of the historical society to preserve the archives and valuable papers. Rooms for meeting places of the Grand Army, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and the auxiliaries of these organizations, and of other patriotic societies. Places to preserve and exhibit the relics now scattered throughout the county. Bronze tablets on which are to be inscribed the names of the soldier, sailor or marine credited to, or enlisted from, this county.

Under the law passed by the last Legislature, and approved by the governor, we have 10 years in which to pay for this memorial. The law specifically says that the assessment shall never exceed two mills in any one year. The committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, who have had this memorial under consideration, think that under the present valuation of the county one-quarter of a mill, to one-half of a mill, yearly, will provide sufficient funds to erect this memorial.

We do not want to place a burden on the taxpayer. The millage will be so low, you will not feel it. To the ordinary taxpayer it will not amount to more than a dollar or two, or probably less, per year.

Other counties and other cities have memorials and monuments costing much more than we ask. Allegheny county erected a memorial hall costing $750,000; the most magnificent building of the kind in the world, commemorating the names and services of the men.

who went out from that county to save the Union. Nearly per cent of this voters voted for R. Fayette county, a historical spot in the United States, linked with the deeds of the immortal Washington, with the early history of this country, a place where he developed his military ability to command the Revolutionary Army and establish this nation. Notwithstanding its early history, Fayette county has very little to show for the deeds of valor and patriotism, performed by Washington and the men who followed in his footsteps down to the present time. No records of any kind have been, or are now kept in this county for present or future reference of the names and services of the men who served in the various wars from this county. There should be such a record of reference for future generations. This patriotic project is endorsed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish-American War Veterans, American Legion, Grand Army of the Republic. Four grand jurors have considered this question and were unanimously in favor of it, and so reported. It is now before the people of this county to say "Yes" or "No."

CORNISH TIN MINES

Close Down After Centuries of Operation; No Longer Profitable.
The last Cornish tin mine has closed down, and an industry which was the oldest in Great Britain, having been carried on by the Phoenicians long before the invasion of the Romans, now is extinct, with the result that nearly 100,000 miners and their families are starving in Cornwall.
The mining no longer is profitable, owing to the low price of tin, with high price of coal and other necessary materials. Unlike the coal miners, the tin miners never demanded exorbitant wages. In fact, at Tlaconet they went to the extent of returning to employers thousands of dollars in wages in an effort to keep the mines going.

FRIDAY, EVENING, OCT. 7, 1921.

SUCCESS RESTS WITH YOU.

With the organization of the several district teams completed, and the details well arranged, all that remains to achieve success in the campaign for the Salvation Army's home service fund is for the individual members of the teams to spend a few hours in making a canvass of their territory, and for the people solicited to show their sympathy and interest in the under-taking by having a part in raising the fund.

The organization is on the lines of the Liberty Bond campaigns during the war and has in its ranks many of the veterans who were instrumental in achieving the very worthy distinction for Connelville as "the place where they put things across."

The same thing had easily been done with the Salvation Army fund if the same spirit of cooperation is manifested as was so remarkably displayed during the days when the Liberty Bond teams were accomplishing what everybody thought to be impossible of achievement in Connelville.

In the present instance the campaign includes points outside of Con-nelville, in which the Salvation Army has been carrying on its excellent work and where its services are as highly appreciated as here. These places are represented on the teams by men who were not one whit behind the Connelville "putters across" in securing subscriptions for Liberty Bonds in excess of the quotas assigned their districts. These men will be an element of strength in the present campaign, but the united efforts of the teams, if sustained as they should be by the people, will mean that every part of the Connelville district of the Salvation Army will not be shamed of what is being done on behalf of this agency for the relief of distress among the unfortunate.

The campaign committee will not evade its duty. See that you are as thorough in doing your part cheerfully and willingly.

HALLOWEEN PARADE.

The reconsideration by the volunteer firemen of their decision to no longer take active part in staging the Halloween parade will be "welcome news" to the school children and other who feared the custom of several years might be abandoned for lack of leaders to continue it.

With the firemen agreeing to again handle the celebration and a well-known business man taking upon himself the obligation to provide for the financial part, the citizens who have been in the habit of participating in the parade, and the still larger number who have enjoyed viewing its antics and fun-making, are assured that the annual observance of All Saints Eve will be fully up to the standard of preceding years.

This is the one night of the year when everybody, both old and young, can relax a little and engage in a few hours of play. They will therefore be glad to see that the opportunity will be provided through consent of the firemen to arrange the details.

KEEPING THE FIRE FIEND AWAY.

The fire which resulted in damage to the extent of several hundred dollars to the Hulltown school house in Lower Tyrone township, and interrupted the progress of the school work can very well be cited as one of the reasons why the attention of every person should be directed at this time to the necessity of taking every possible precaution to remove fire risks before the fall and winter house heating season begins in earnest.

It is reported the school house fire was caused by the smoke pipe from the heater not being properly insulated, the incident should serve as a reminder to every householder and occupant of residence or business premises to make an examination of the premises to see if the same or any similar defect in the heating apparatus exists and, if so, to cause it to be remedied without delay.

While it is important to take precautions against fires in buildings of every kind, it is particularly urgent that extraordinary care be taken with respect to schools and other buildings in which a number of persons, either young or old, are assembled from day to day. In case of fire in such structures the danger that lives may be lost is almost direct, rather than the number of occupants. Moreover, statistics show that a larger percentage of school houses are destroyed by fire than any other class of buildings.

Almost every community has at some time or other been scourged by a more or less disastrous fire. The lessons of these unfortunate occurrences ought not to be forgotten; must not be forgotten if we are to experience a feeling of security from a visitation of the fire fiend.

If everybody provides their share of the dough for the Salvation Army home service fund that organization will be able to serve more than doubly as a full meal to the jobless.

It will add nothing to the acuteness of the unemployment situation if every householder and property owner fires every fire hazard of the premises.

As at present equipped to avoid having cold feet the officer on duty at Brimstone corner ought to be a regular "barker."

Business and industry are improving to such an extent that even Democrats are beginning to wear more cheerful countenances.

THE SITTING ROOM.

A grate fire and a snapping log.
Upon the hearth a sleeping dog.
The mother in her rocking chair
Swaying gently many a nip and tuck
In little garments while in bed
Stammers each drowsy curly head.
Oh, mighty poets, can you miss
The glory of such scenes as this?

That this might be the pioneers!
Of Freedom suffered dreadful years;
Shaved countless dangers, forests wild,
To bless with peace a little child;
Took arms, and, smiling, a night or so
And smiling died that men might know
Beyond all covetous desire
A home, roof and a happy fire.

All history from age to age
Recorded on the printed page
Of battlefields strewn thick with dead
And women weeping red
The cannon smoke and screaming shell
This very simple story told Tells all to have from work and doom
The glory of the sitting room.

HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDEERS READY TO MEET PEABODY; LINEUP MAY BE CHANGED

Some Regulars Have Been Substituted for by Reserves.

VICTORY IS EXPECTED

The Connellsville high school football team will try a comeback tomorrow afternoon at Fayette Field. If the outfit does not defeat Peabody it will be because of lack of effort. At that, there are some few who persist in asking: "What chance have we with Peabody?"

The Fayette school has not accomplished much this season outside of defeating a weaker school. This team has seven new faces in the lineup and the game ought to be a fine contest.

Last year Peabody scored three touchdowns from fumbles by Coker backs. This season, barring bad breaks, things ought to go more evenly.

Just who will be in the local lineup tomorrow is entirely a matter of conjecture. Coach White still knows who he will use. The boys seem to have recovered their pep and enthusiasm and the team has looked better in the past two nights than at any other time this season. Some of the regulars are still absent because of injuries and other causes. Their places, however, are being ably filled by the reserves.

TORNADOES WORK OUT

AT FAYETTE FIELD
The Connellsville Tornado football team is working out regularly at Fayette Field under the supervision of Captain "Doc" Buttermore. Coach Jones being away on his honeymoon. On the return of Jones, the team will get down to work in earnest in preparation for the game with Sutersville.

DUNBAR TOWNSHIP HAS

GAME ON SATURDAY
Dunbar Township High will meet North Union High at Trotter tomorrow afternoon. The Dunbarites are considered as good as any township outfit, and are confident of winning over their old rivals on Saturday. It will be the first home game of the season and the rooters are planning to attend in a large body.

BUCK KROUSE TO MEET SCHLINGER HERE OCTOBER 17

"Buck" Krouse, the heavy-lifting Broad Ford slugger, has sent word to the matchmaker of the Fayette Athletic club that he will be on the job in Monday week to exchange slugs with Julie Schlinger of Dutch Bottom.

A one of the bouts that will precede the main encounter between Young Goidie and Eddie Carver.

The Baltimore & Ohio freeman has been after a match with Krouse ever since last winter. Schlinger is being groomed for the job by Glenn Miller, the former heavyweight boxer. With the word passed that "Buck" will be on dock to mingle with Schlinger, fans are assured of another good bout for the big show on the 17th.

YANKEES WIN SECOND GAME; TWO SHUTOUTS

Final Score 3-0; Giants Unable to Touch Offerings of Hoyt.

R. MEUSEL STEALS HOME

For Second Time This Year Is Put Over by Yank Runners; Bambino Gets Three Walks and Does a Little Pitching Himself; New Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Yankees yesterday duplicated their feat of the opening day of the world series and trimmed the Giants by another shut out score, 3-0. The hits in the game were considerably fewer on both sides, but again the Yanks had the knack of getting singles when they meant runs. "One run in the fourth and two in the eighth were too much for the National leaguers.

Archie Neft went on the mound for the Giants, and was opposed by Walter Hoyt. Both men had lots of stuff. The former allowed only three hits and the Giants garnered two. For the second time the Yanks scored a run by pittering home. This time Bob Meusel pulled the stunt put over in the first game by McNally. He dashed for the plate but did not have to slide as the ball got away from Smith, who was startled by the dash of the base runner.

Babe Ruth was not allowed to do anything at bat. He got tired walks out of his four trips to the plate and on the other occasion he got on base through a fielder's choice. He finally failed, however. Ruth appeared in a new role when he stole second and third base in rapid succession. He was purposely walked and then advanced a base on each of the next pitches. He did not score that time, however.

A new receipts record was established yesterday, breaking that on the first day which was a record itself. The 34,339 spectators paid $115,326. Of the sum the players share will be $55,833.20. The clubs will get $38,205.80, and the advisory board $17,288.

The Yanks scored in the fourth Pipp was the first batter and he sent a high one to Youns. Ward followed with a lucky hit into right field. He seemed to be dodging the ball when it struck his bat and flew over Rawlings' head. McNally grounded to Neft who threw wide to second, both Ward and the batter being safe. It was an error for Neft. Schung was walked, filling the bases. Then Ward scored while Rawlings was throwing out Hoyt at first. McNally also tried to score but was caught at the plate, Kelly to Smith.

Things were run off in one. Two three orders until the eighth. Then Pecklaugh popped to Frisch who dropped the ball. Ruth forced Pecklaugh at second, Kelly to Bancroft. Meusel singled to center, Ruth going to third. On the throw to third Meusel went to second and Ruth scored when Rawlings was throwing out Pipp at first. Meusel hustling down to third, Meusel stole home when Smith had a short passed ball and the inning ended as Ward fouled out to Kelly.

In the ninth, after the Giants had put two men on the bases with one out, Kelly repeated his stunt of the ninth inning of the first game and hit into a double play.

Nineteenth Hole Yarn

Golf enthusiasts on the links at Charleston Black Out, who had observed that squirrels resident on the course were ogling them in a peculiar manner, learned the reason the other day.

Lesley Reynolds announced he had stalked one of the squirrels to a hollow tree and found a cache of 41 golf balls. Search of similar hiding places on the course revealed 30 more lost balls he said.

SYRUP PEPSIN IN OLD AGE

Much used by elderly people for constipation, biliousness, head-aches, etc.

MANY men and women, as they grow older, suffer constantly from little ills. The cause is the poisons produced by chronic constipation, resulting in headaches, depression, bloating, sour stomach, bad breath, etc. A single bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will prove to you that you can so regulate yourself that elimination will occur promptly every day. Increased doses are not necessary. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and others simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The cost is only about a cent a dose.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market 30 years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, the formula has never been improved upon. It is safer and better for you than salts, mineral, calomel, coal tar and such drastic purgatives.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free

Free escape constipation, so even if you do not receive a package at this moment, let me send you a Half-Ounce Trial Bottle of my Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. It will have its handy, when needed. Simply send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 214 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Write me today.

PADDED BREECHES

A. D. 1559

"In Queen Elizabeth's reign, a special scaffolding was put up in the House of Commons for those who wore breeches the tremendous stuffing of which prevented their sitting in ordinary chairs."

His Lordship's breeches were correct

THE breeches which prevented his Lordship from sitting in an ordinary chair in Parliament were quite correct in the reign of Henry VIII.

They were correct because style has always been a real expression of the character of the age.

Young men today are turning to styles which reflect the clean-cut aggressive spirit of the time. Designed in New York, Cortley Clothes add to excellence of material and perfect tailoring a style which expresses this modern spirit with correctness and distinction.

CITY OFFICIAL SAYS THAT HE HAS BEEN PREJUDICED

Makes Significant Statement Regarding His Opinion of Medicine, But He Found That Nerv-Worth Was Different When It Came the Desired Results.

"I have always been prejudiced against medicine, but I am now of a different opinion," said Nerv-Worth, a prominent physician, "it's a miracle," said G. W. Whitmer, 210 Hill street, Xenia, O. And he goes on: "I was completely run down and terribly nervous, and I couldn't sleep. I would toss and turn most of the night. Had gas on my stomach, and belched quite some time after eating. I have taken one bottle of Nerv-Worth and, been helped marvelously. I have not enjoyed sleep in six months as I do now. I cannot recommend it too highly, for I feel like a different man."

Mr. Whitmer is one of Xenia's highly respected citizens and held the office of director of public service in this city for four terms. A statement from such a man is more than convincing proof.

Nerv-Worth has proved a miracle in millions of other cases, just as it has in this case. It acts in a sensible way to bring about the desired results because it is one medicine that acts jointly for the benefit of stomach and nervous system. It aids the digestive system, neutralizes excess stomach acids, drives out impurities, stops gas forming, and at the same time that it does this, it gives nerve force, sound restful sleep, and tones and invigorates the system throughout. If you suffer from ill health, do not hesitate to start at once on Nerv-Worth, for it will do for you what it has done for millions of others in all parts of the country. Take a bottle home and use it according to the directions, and if you are not satisfied, that it is helping you, your money will be refunded.

THE SOISSON.

"THE TRUTH ABOUT HUSBANDS," the leading attraction today and tomorrow, is an adaptation of "The Prodigal," and has an exceptionally well balanced cast headed by May McAvoy. The story deals in a startlingly interesting way with the age-old problem of how a man before marriage cannot have his thing without the danger of his escapades confronting him after marriage. The consummation of the play is perhaps as thrilling as a climax as ever has been screened in a society drama. H. E. Herbert plays Duane Renshaw, a wealthy bachelor who is supposedly typical of his class. Under an assumed name he meets Janet Price, played by May McAvoy, who is a librarian living in a suburb and makes love to her. Later he marries Leslie Brownell, portrayed by May McAvoy, a young society girl, and takes her abroad. But it so happens that Leslie's brother, Wilfred Brownell, enacted by Arthur Rankin, is acquainted with Janet Price, the librarian, but is not cognizant of the fact that Duane, his sister's husband, has ever met her.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE FACE OF THE WORLD," a picture of romance with thrills and speed, with humor, is the feature attraction today and tomorrow. Bravely they started out in life two keys to the only legacy. Yet nothing could have been more providential—or of greater value—than those small gifts of her grandfather. A story of life in the country to the big city and back again—action, suspense, and pathos. A burning hospital, the wrecking of a high-powered racing car, a thrilling rescue, and throughout a love story as tender and sweet as the screen has ever known with one of the screen's most beautiful actresses in the lead role. This production, adapted to the screen from the greatest novel of a great foreign author, makes one of the most fascinating pictures of the year. See how this unsophisticated little country girl found her happiness after a struggle that wrecked her very soul.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE MOUNTAIN WOMAN," with Pearl White in the stellar role, is the feature picture today and will also be presented tomorrow. The picture is replete with acting of the finest type. There is spirited action aplenty, and interesting incidents which are added as a sort of good measure to the gripping plot. The sub-titles, written in the droll dialect of the mountaineers, are not the least factor in the entertainment value of this William Fox production. Miss White plays "Alexander" McGivone, whose father feared her as if she were a boy, and whose wild beauty set men's hearts aflame and brought sneers from the women because she dressed in boyish garb. Her attitude toward suitors was always "stand aside." The falling of giant trees shooting the rapids on log rafts, a sensational hotel fire and a grain elevator's destruction by marauders are among the sensational scenes of the picture. Pearl White is Pearl White and what further personal description is necessary to her hundreds of thousands of admirers?

Woman's Faith Helps Husband

"I owe my good health to my wife who had faith in a newspaper ad she saw of May's Wonderful Remedy. I was down so badly with stomach and liver trouble after 15 years of suffering and trying every known remedy that I had no faith in anything. This medicine has certainly been a 'God-send' to me. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded." A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

To Make Rich Red Blood

Revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves and increase your strength and endurance

Take Organic Iron; not iron pills from which people usually take, but pure organic iron. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and life. It is in your stomach, intestines and lungs. One dose of Tonsilene is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Released from its heretofore neglected and nearly for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while the metallic iron in iron pills comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Tonsilene. It will not irritate the bowels or disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results.

Be sure of Tonsilene. Always insist on having genuine Tonsilene. Tonsilene is sold by all druggists. Look for the letters T. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

Me an' Gib's got ashore for lunch at the 'Marigold' cafe. McGuffey announced presently in order to break the horrible silence that followed Scraggy's crushing defeat. "I'm willing to spend some of my profits on the deal an' blow you to a lunch with a small bottle o' Dago Red thrown in. How about it, Scraggy?"

"The 'on' Scraggy sought to throw at his gloom (and appear splendidly) 'What'd you peddle them two cadavers for, Gib?"

Mr. Gibney grinned broadly, but did not answer. In effect, his grin informed Scraggy that that was none of the latter's business—and Scraggy assimilated the hint. "Well, at any rate, Gib, whenever you speak to me, it's a mighty good rule an' congenial to you. I think maybe I might be done a little better myself, but then it ain't every day a feller can turn an eighteen-dollar trick on a corpse."

"Coffin to lunch with us?" McGuffey demanded.

"Sure. Wait a minute till I run forward an' see if the times is all right."

He stepped out of the cabin and presently Gibney and McGuffey were conscious of a rapid succession of thuds on the deck. Gibney winked at McGuffey.

"Neither new hat gone to h—l," murmured McGuffey.

CHAPTER IX.

Even after allowing for the expenditures on the engine weighing heavily on Captain Scraggy, that individual continued morose and more than ever inclined to be sagacious. Mr. Gibney commented on the fact to Mr. McGuffey.

"He's troubled financially, Gib."

"Well, you know who troubled him, don't you, Bart?"

"I mean about the cost of them repairs in the engine room. Unless he can come through in thirty days with the balance he owes, the boiler people are going to libel the Maggie to protect their claim."

Mr. Gibney arched his bushy eyebrows. "How do you know?" he demanded.

"He was a tellin' me," Mr. McGuffey admitted wearily.

"Well, he wasn't a tellin' me," Mr. Gibney's tones were ominous; he placed at his friend's unsuspecting ear from the Maggie's cabin issued forth Scraggy's voice raised in song.

"Hello! The old boy's thermometer's gone up, Bart. Listen at him. Ever o' these he's fondly dreamin'! Somethin's busted the spell an' I'll bet a corky it was ready cash." He

"Bart," he demanded, "did you loan Scraggy some money?"

He named Mr. McGuffey with a rigid index finger. "Bart," he demanded, "did you loan Scraggy some money?"

"The honest McGuffey hung his head. 'A little, bit,' he replied childishly. 'What'd you call a little bit?' 'Three hundred dollars, Gib.' 'Secured?' 'He gave his note at eight per cent. The bank's bank only pays four.' 'Is the note secured by endorsement or collateral?' 'No.' 'Hum-m-m! Strange you didn't say nothing to me about this till I had to pry it out of you, Bart.' 'Well, Scraggy was feelin' so dogged blue—'

"The truth," Mr. Gibney insisted firmly, "the truth, Bart."

"Walk Scraggy asked me not to say anything to you, about it."

"Sure. He knew I'd kill the deal. He knew better to try to nick me for three hundred bucks on his dogged, worthless note. Bart, why'd you do it?"

"Oh, h—l, Gib, he's a good feller," post McGuffey pleaded. "Don't be too hard on Scraggy."

"We're discussin' you, Bart. 'Pears to me you've sort o' lost confidence in your old shipmate, ain't you? 'Pears that way to me when you act sneaky like."

McGuffey bridled. "I ain't a sneak."

"A case by any other name'd be just as sweet," Mr. Gibney quoted. "You poor, misguided, simp. If you ever see that three hundred dollars again you'll be a lot older'n you are now. However, that ain't none of my business. The fact remains, Bart, that you conspired with Scraggy to keep things away from me, which shows you ain't the man I thought you were, so from now on you go your way an' I'll go mine."

"I got a right to do as I blasted please with my money," McGuffey defended hotly. "I ain't no child to be lectured to."

"Considerin' the fact that you wouldn't have had the money to lend if it hadn't been for me, I allow I'm insulted when you use the said money to give me an' comfort to my enemy. I'm through."

McGuffey, smothered in guilt, felt nevertheless that he had to stand by his guns, so to speak. "Stay through, if you feel like it," he retorted. "Where'd you get that chatter? Ain't I free, white, an' twenty-one year old?"

Mr. Gibney was really hurt. "You poor boob," he murmured. "It's the old game o' settin' a beggar on horseback an' settin' him down to the devil, or slippin' a gold ring in a pig's nose. As I figured you was my friend!"

"Well, ain't I?"

"Pokey! Pokey! Don't talk to me. You'd sell out your own mother."

"Gib, you tryin' to pick a fight with me?"

"No, but I would if I thought I wouldn't get a footstep instead," Gibney rejoined, scathingly. "Scraggy, what a double-crosser! I been headed honest, Bart, when it comes to that sort o' work Scraggy is in his infancy. You sure take the cake."

"I ain't got the heart to elude you," Mr. McGuffey declared, sorrowfully. "You mean you ain't got the guts."

Mr. Gibney corrected him. "Bart, I got your number. Goodbye."

Mr. McGuffey had a wild impulse to cast himself upon the Gibney neck and weep, but his honor forbade any such weakness. So he invited Mr. Gibney to betake himself to a reason several degrees hotter than the Maggie's engine room; then, because he feared to linger and develop a sentimental weakness, he turned his back abruptly and descended to the sail engine room.

On his part, Adelbert P. Gibney entered the cabin and shared long and monologues with Captain Scraggy. "I'll have my time," he growled presently. "Give it to me an' give it quick."

The very intonation of his voice warned Scraggy that the present was not a time for argument or trifling. Silently he paid Mr. Gibney the money due him; in equal silence the navigating officer went to the pilot house, unsecured his framed certificate from the wall, packed it with his few belongings, and departed for Scab Johnny's boarding house.

"Hello," Scab Johnny saluted him at his entrance. "Quit the Maggie?"

Mr. Gibney nodded.

"Want a trip to the dark blue?"

"Lead me to it," murmured Mr. Gibney.

"It'll cost you twenty dollars, Gib. Chief mate on the Rose of Sharon bound for the Galapagos Islands sailing."

"I'll take it, Johnny," Mr. Gibney threw over a twenty-dollar bill, went to his room, packed all of his belongings, paid his bill to Scab Johnny, and within the hour was aboard the schooner Rose of Sharon. Two hours later, they towed out with the tide.

Poor McGuffey was stunned when he heard the news that night from Scab Johnny. When he related the information to Scraggy next morning, Scraggy was equally perturbed. He guessed that McGuffey and Gibney had quarreled and he had the poor judgment to ask McGuffey the cause of the row. Instantly, McGuffey informed him that that was none of his dog-fetched business—and the incident was closed.

The three months that followed were the most harrowing of McGuffey's life. Captain Scraggy knew his engineer would not remain while he, Scraggy, owed him three hundred dollars; wherefore he was not too particular to put a bridle on his tongue when things appeared to go wrong. McGuffey longed to kill him, but dared not. When, eventually, the railroad had been extended sufficiently far down the coast to enable the farmers to haul their goods to the railroad in trucks, the Maggie automatically went out of the green-pen trade; simultaneously, Captain Scraggy's note to McGuffey fell due and the engineer demanded payment. Scraggy, despairing, pleading poverty, but Mr. McGuffey assumed such a threatening attitude that, reluctantly Scraggy paid him a hundred and fifty dollars on account, and McGuffey extended the balance one year—and quit.

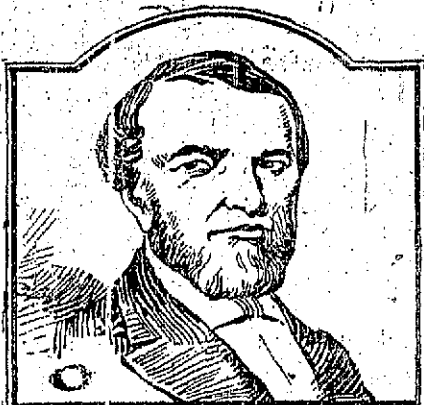

"See that you got that hundred and fifty an' the interest in your jeans the next time you meet," he warned Scraggy as he went overboard.

Time passed. For a month the Maggie plied regularly between Bogden bay and San Francisco in an endeavor to work up some business in farm and dairy produce, but a gasoline echoer out in the run and declared a rate war, whereupon the Maggie turned her blunt nose riverward and for a brief

GEORGE BACON
Known as the pioneer in the piano industry as far back as 1830—founder of the house now known as The Bacon Piano Company.

An unprecedented sale of Francis Bacon Player Pianos

In the last few years we have been fortunate in getting good pianos in small numbers, but it has not been easy to get them in quantities that would permit an extended sales effort. And frankly it is only of late that we have considered the time ripe for such an event. Now—at last—we are fortunate in being able to offer the well-known "Francis Bacon" Player at a most sensational saving in price.

A name that has come down through the years with honor and distinction

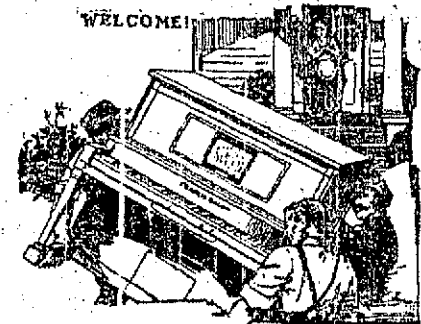

Everybody in musical circles knows the Bacon name on pianos—they know what it means. It is a name of dignity and distinction—noted for rare musicianly qualities and artistic excellence.

Since last April we have been preparing for this event. We might have secured 100 Bacon Players in May, but preferred to wait—we think the present time more proper for many reasons.

There has been considerable stringency in the past. Spending power has been restricted. But this no longer holds good. Banks and clearing houses report that money is more plentiful. Careful, prudent, forward-looking people are buying again in moderation.

As always—after the famine comes the feast. We expect to see the return of the "good old times" when a dollar acts like a hundred cents' worth—and there will be dollars enough for every good purpose.

This is the faith we have in our city and our store. And in publishing this announcement we are certain of a prompt and liberal response. We know people will buy—if the price is right! Read our piano-player proposition in the panel on the right.

PEOPLE WHO ARE TAKING YEAST FOR HEALTH

Will Find Yeast-Vitamin in Tablet Form Better—Results Quicker.
DRUGGISTS NOW HAVE CONCENTRATED TABLETS

Objectionable features and slow results from eating yeast have caused many to give up the treatment, but now, thanks to modern chemistry, you can buy concentrated tablets containing a proven dose of Yeast-Vitamin (Water Soluble B) made from yeast and the still more important "Fat Soluble A" Vitamin, etc.

These "Phos-Pho-Vitamin" tablets made expressly for medicinal use do not disturb the stomach as yeast may do; the tablets are easier to take; contain a proper dose; results are quicker and more economical.

Made of these ingredients, druggists, chemists and experts endorse the new and better way to take Vitamin. We recommend the tablets in preference to ordinary yeast and gladly prepare a bottle of 60 Phos-Pho-Vitamin Tablets anywhere upon receipt of $1. plus 4c war tax. If your druggist hasn't secured a supply, write to: Laboratory, Wheeling, W. Va.—Advertisement.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color to Gray Hair and Make it Attractive.

Almost everyone knows that Sage and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wynette Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a little bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. It won't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application, or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

The Most Interesting Thing About Autumn Millinery Is the Price

$4.95

$7.95

AND that's saying a great deal when you consider that never was there such a season for diversity of mode and beauty of coloring.

Pause for a moment and let our Autumn Millinery Showing take you for a stroll through History's pages. You find the swagger broad-brimmed shapes that used to mark the Cavaliers—the tricorne of Colonial days—the more modern jaunty turban. Every one especially designed to enhance the longer skirt length, the flowing sleeve and other attractive style trends of the season.

As for price—we'll let Friday and Saturday discourse upon that topic. For these happy days will feature.

Two Groups of Hats

conceived in duvetyne, metal cloth, and Lyons velvet and trimmed in all the vagaries that Paris sponsors for the season. Colors are black, pleasant, rosewood, henna, delft and copper. Priced $4.95 and $7.95.

Special!

A Misses' Shoe at $6.75

THIS is appeal to all those little girls (and their name is legion) who believe that their feet have as much right to be well shod as have big sisters.

The model is a high, lace ball strap school shoe with Goodyear welt, in tan Russia. Calif. Sizes 11½ to 2.

"Attractive" does but scant justice to them. Very special at $6.75.

A coal bucket that will last

NOT one of those flimsy affairs, mind you, that do duty for a month or two and then die of over exertion, but a husky, heavy galvanized iron contraption that should last for years and more than repay in longer service its slightly higher initial cost. In three sizes, priced $1.25, $1.35 and $1.50.

Other winter needs are:

Galvanized window boxes (which serve as winter time window refrigerators) with drop door and shelf—$4.35.

Fresh Air Window Ventilator (screens which let air in and keep snow, draughts and rain out—preserving curtains) priced according to size, 75c, 85c, $1.00.

Gas Heaters to act as ever-welcome auxiliary heaters in odd places about the house. $7.50 and $10.

Hot Plates—one and two hole, priced $8.50 and $5.75.

$25 can buy an attractive Fall suit

THE suit department asks you to imagine yourself fully arrayed in a new Fall suit with comfortable fur collar—or a plain tailored model if you prefer—at an expenditure of only $25.

It seems almost incredible but it's a quite consoling fact.

The suits herein referred to are all of a good quality of wool velour, plain tailored in some cases, in others fur trimmed—every one following the latest fashion dictate of the season.

Coming in such fashionable colors as brown, navy and Sorrento they are really quite worthy rivals of their more expensive neighbors and at the price are as good a value as we've been able to offer in some seasons.

If you think it wise to limit your clothing expenditures this year you must see these today.

Those new $48.00 coats

JUST one week ago we told you of a special purchase whereby it became possible for us to offer you winter coats at the ridiculous price (considering the garments) of $38 and $43.

Needless to say the response was immediate and large. But, fortunately there are still some very attractive models left.

The weather we've been having this week makes the purchase of a coat not only desirable but absolutely necessary for most of us.

And therefore you are invited to avail yourself of this second opportunity to purchase a beautiful garment at so reasonable a price.

The models are fashioned in Normandy, Bolivia, Pollyanna and other reasonable cloths, fully silk lined—some trimmed in beaverette, skunk and opposum! The colors are taupe, seal, navy, Sorrento and black.

Friday and Saturday End the Sale of Silk Underwear

AND prices, which are now reduced from 15% to 33¼% will automatically revert to their former level. As we hoped this sale is winning us many friends.

For so many women have come to know silk underwear for the easily washed, utterly comfortable, all round garment that it is, that they have been more than eager to seize this opportunity to lay in a season's supply.

Those of us—school teachers, business women, housewives—who know what it means to cut down laundry expenses are particularly invited to avail themselves of the values afforded by this occasion.

Bear in mind that such silk garments as petticoats, waists, gowns and camisoles are also reduced in this event.

Wool Dress Goods at ½ Price

A companion offering is that of cloakings—heather, tweeds, mixtures, and Polo Cloth at $5 per yard.

A real opportunity, this, both to outfit yourself and to save good money.

—Main Floor.

Children's Winter Underwear

JOHNNY'S opinion on the underwear question is "Get me heavies that aren't scratchy."

While sister favors fluffily cotton garments that may be tied at the neck with a neat little bow.

We are prepared with Winter underwear for children no matter what their size—from the tiniest garments for the newly arrived mite to those intended for their sturdy 14 year old brethren.

Cotton and wool mixed garments range up to $3.25 in price, while cotton alone cost from $1 to $2.
